CLASS OF 2020

WHY YOU'RE SPECIAL

If you can find a path with no obstacles, it probably doesn't lead anywhere. Frank. A Clark

I think this year, the class of 2020, should find that this resonates with them more than ever before. During what has been an unprecedented time you have been resilient, mature and we are so proud of you. And you should be proud of yourselves for your hard work in school and at home. This year has tested your ability to adapt and thrive in situations that you are not used to and has seen you triumph. I hope you remember how well you've done and apply the same composure and commitment to the exciting experiences and challenges that lay ahead.

There have been so many fantastic memories, in what has felt like the fastest year. I admired your teamwork and competitiveness during Sports Day. I admired your grit and resolve during the Duke of Edinburgh expeditions. I admired your community spirit and inclusivity during the Well-being trip. I admired your talent and charisma in school performances and productions. This list goes on but one thing remains that same, you are all truly exceptional individuals.

As you move onto your next chapter, be it here at EC Sixth Form, or further afield, I hope that you remember that you are all truly outstanding. But, maintaining high standards is about consistent hard work and dedication which you are all capable of. Use your time well, be thankful and most importantly relish in immersing yourself doing what you love. The path may sometimes be bumpy but the lessons you will learn along the way are part of the journey. Don't forget, it is the bumps, the challenges, the obstacles that mean your path is leading to a happy and successful future.

Class of 2020, it has been a pleasure working with you all. Good luck! I know that you will excel, wherever your path takes you.

A message from Miss Ayre and the Senior Team

STUDENT MESSAGE

When I first joined EC in Year 9, knowing nobody and watching everybody whizz past me in a blur of unfamiliar faces, I felt very overwhelmed. The crisp smell of my brand new uniform was undoubtedly the only constant in my first day of school. The first thing that I heard anyone in EC say was actually a conversation between two close friends on the table that I randomly chose to sit in during morning registration – it was something about eyebrows (“Omg! Your eyebrows look amazing!”). In hindsight, as strange as this may sound, this interaction probably summed up the EC spirit pretty accurately – unwavering friendship, support and a lot of bemusement for my 14 year old new-kid self!

Although the only initial constant has changed over the past 3 years (hello, new uniform), the EC community has become the new amazing staple in my life. In the past year alone, I've created some friendships I will always treasure; and laughed an innumerable amount of times (a lot of them involving Yusuf's flawless knowledge of his favourite topic in Biology). As a year group, we've created some unforgettable memories: from International Days to Sports Days and even just the regular flow of everyday life at EC, I am sure I can speak on behalf of everyone when I say that these moments will forever be cherished. In fact, one everyday memory I can guarantee we all share is being chased up and down the school by Mr Idris as he tries to get us to wear our lanyards! I can proudly say that my yellow Falcon lanyard has survived all 3 years of EC life – although it's a bit more grey than yellow now... Of course, as the GCSE 2020 class, it goes without saying that this year in particular has been very strange, to say the least. The cancellation of our exams was in itself a shock. Combined with a full transition to home learning, the effect of COVID-19 has undeniably flipped our lives upside down. Nevertheless, we have all managed to stay in touch with one another during quarantine – a testament to our unbreakable community spirit. This year, as the world has thrown a multitude of challenges at us, I can proudly say that we have developed the maturity to unabashedly voice our opinions and become harbingers of change through little yet powerful acts of solidarity. Year 11, we're on the right track.

Finally, to all of our friends that are leaving us next year: we will miss you; and we wish you all the best in the next steps in your lives. To everyone that's staying with us in Sixth Form: let's make this brand new chapter even better than the ones before!

– Ganna Abdelwahab, 11B
